

JOEY WALTERS

| 3d animator and artist | joeycwalters@gmail.com |

| Joeycwalters.com |

A huge part of my University time was focused around team work and it gave me a huge confidence boost, I now see myself as an assertive team leader - able to see where people need help and support, along with knowing when people need a smile and a push in the right direction.

I also work well within a team, ready to take on new tasks and always eager to learn new skills.

Computer technology has a huge part in my skill set. I can learn programs fast and efficiently and already have a thorough understanding of how to use the fundamentals such as Maya and the Adobe Suite.

As an animator, I'm always looking for new ways to learn and new things to create. Overall I hope to keep improving over the years to come, hopefully meeting many more inspiring and talented artists along the way.

Employment:

University of Hertfordshire
[3D Animation – ‘Casual Worker’]
11/2016 – Current
Sebastian’s Café & Catering
08/2016 – 12/2016
The Green Man Pub
02/2012 – 08/2013

Volunteer Work:

Land’s End Stables
Summer of 2009
DB Animal Rescue Centre
Second Half of 2016
Romania missionary trip
A week within 07/2015

I have also done a fair share of freelance work, including: general artwork, several invites and order of services for weddings and funerals, a couple of company logos, six novel cover illustrations and some company and character design work for a past employer during my time at ‘Sebastian’s Café’. I am also the lead artist within a team currently working on a fully playable card game – ‘It’s Just a Theory’.

Education:

Degree: University of Hertfordshire
Bachelor's Degree of 3D Animation
(Upper-Second)

Post A - Level:

Reading College - Btec Art Foundation course.

A-Level:

Art and Design	A
Geography	C
Design and Technology	C

Strong knowledge in:

Casual knowledge in:

| References on request |

